The Soft collection has a new addition. The low and high easy chairs now come with a round base sofa table with a frame of spun aluminium. There is a light fitting inside the frame, under a glass cover.

Modern furniture design operates on a market which is only emerging, a market it has, as it were, to create. It does not answer a ready, existing demand, content with only satisfying those needs, but creates its own demand by simultaneously creating new objects and their users. Modern furniture design creates new types of objects and new ways of seeing, experiencing and using them.
